

Collaborative Writing: Social Media and Identity

1. In her introduction of Eric Shener, Michelle Martin states, “He also takes a hands-on approach to educating his students about the advantages and downsides of social media” (NPR 333). What are some of the advantages of social media discussed in this interview?
2. As a group, create your own list of advantages and disadvantages to social media. Talk about your own experiences as you generate the list, and be prepared to share with the class.

Writing Part II

3. As a group, consider how your different intended career or academic paths use social networking sites. Select one field and do some in-class research about how social media sites are used in that field. Write up your findings, and be prepared to discuss with the rest of the class.
